APPRECIATING THE COMBINED ART AND SCIENCE THAT COMPRISE THE PRACTICE OF LAW, HE STRIVES TO CREATE EFFICIENT, ELEGANT SOLUTIONS FOR CLIENTS FACING COMPLEX CHALLENGES.

David's extensive trial experience litigating disputes in state, federal, appellate and military courts includes solo and first-chair bench trials and arbitrations, and state and federal prosecutions for the U.S. military. He has represented clients in Texas and across the United States, as well as guiding domestic clients through international legal matters in Canada, Mexico, Italy and Nigeria.

Litigation Success

Bringing significant experience with dispositive motions on both sides of the aisle, David has both successfully recovered many 100 percent judgments for plaintiff clients and obtained full dismissals for defendant clients. He handles cases covering a broad spectrum of legal issues, including contracts, high-stakes business disputes, construction defects, RCLA claims noncompetes, "company divorces," sports and entertainment, employer nonsubscriber defense, FINRA and U.C.M.J. (military law). Frequently, David has achieved success through mediation, resulting in cost-effective outcomes for his clients.

In-House and Transactional Know-How

Beginning his legal career working in-house for an entertainment arena and professional sports team, David still negotiates and drafts artist and sponsorship contracts, and manages litigation issues for in-house counsel departments. The recent deals David has negotiated and closed involve NFL teams and players, MLB teams, Fortune 500 companies and major entertainment groups.

Collections and Creditors' Rights

David brings specific experience with the collection of millions of dollars in judgments, and the enforcement of creditors' rights through trials, garnishments, receiverships, charging orders and other post-judgment collection proceedings aimed at increasing the collectible value of judgments. David has successfully asserted judgment holder and creditor's claims across the United States, resulting in full recovery of the debt owed.

David also represents targets of white-collar crime disputes, including those involving healthcare and regulatory investigations. Often operating in highly regulated industries, his clients have included crypto currency issuers, oil and gas brokers and operators, police officers, physicians, hospitals, compounding pharmacies, medical organizations and medical suppliers.
